

DR. G. S. WARTHEN STRESSES DUTY OF U. S. CITIZENS

"No great country — the United States included — can be defeated by outside enemies. If it falls, it falls through some fault of its own," Dr. George Saylor Warthen, professor of English at Gettysburg college, told the students of Gettysburg Senior high school this morning at the first of two Armistice day programs arranged at the school by the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion.

"Persia opposed the Greeks with the greatest army in history up to that time. But it failed, because the Persians felt they could conquer with might, without regard to right," he asserted. "The downfall of Rome was forecast even while it was at the height of its power — because Rome had become so corrupt it no longer was worthy of power."

"We speak of the downfall of nations and give many reasons for it. But the Old Testament records more accurately. It tells of the rise and fall of the Hebrew nation, and ascribes the times when it fell to sin, to worshipping false gods."

"We Can Vote and Pray"

"Whether our nation will remain strong depends on us, and particularly you, the coming generation. One of you might be President of the U. S. Some of you may be high in government, but for most of you, as for most of us, your duty will be that of the common citizen."

"What can the common citizen do? Does he know if the atom bomb should be dropped? If the war in Korea is the thing we should be doing? Can he be sure that the Atlantic pact is the ideal solution to our problems? Few if any of us can have the time to study thoroughly all the actions of government, or have the specialized knowledge needed to know the answers. We can't, as individuals solve every problem. But we can vote for persons in whom we have confidence, and we must pray for the heads of our government that they may have the wisdom to lead us properly."

Cites Examples Of Service

"Basically the ideal of service for a common citizen is 'to love God and thy neighbor.' And how can we as common citizens do this? There are many ways. One of the best examples of serving your neighbor is given by the Gettysburg Fire department—and I hope we never need to have a paid one. It is a great thing for our community that we have men willing to give so much of themselves that they can comprise a volunteer fire department. Another example is the information booth on Lincoln square. Those who manned it gave many hours of their time to serve the town and the tourists. There have been suggestions that we should pay someone to be at the booth. But if we do, the town will lose something, the women who give their time would lose, and the tourists would lose. For now it is an expression of the willingness of town residents to serve as citizens of the town and an expression of the welcome the town has for its tourists."

Robert Sheads, of the faculty of Gettysburg high school, presided at the service held in the high school

Charred Bones Are Found In Barn Ashes

A number of pieces of bone, found in the barn of T. Ambrose Myers, Bonneauville, after its destruction by fire Thursday night, have been turned over to County Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist by County Fire Marshal John Murren.

Murren told the coroner that a check with Mr. Myers reveals that all animals known to have been in the barn had been removed before the fire reached the lower section of the barn.

The charred bones look something like a spinal column, according to the fire marshal, and were submitted for laboratory analysis. It was believed that a laboratory report will be made in about a week. Dr. C. Harold Johnson, pathologist at the Warner hospital, is away this week and examination of the bones will probably be delayed until his return.

Says Reds Are On U. S. Payroll

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP)—Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) says persons sympathetic to communism still are on the payroll "to a substantial degree" in the State department.

"I don't think the loyalty program has done its work completely," McCarran said. "I think there are Communist sympathizers today in several of the departments of our government. To my way of thinking they appear to be a substantial degree in the State department, but they're in other departments as well."

GIVES CATHOLIC VIEWPOINT ON APPOINTMENT OF VATICAN ENVOY

A Catholic point of view on the appointment by the U. S. of an ambassador to the Vatican was presented Sunday morning by Attorney John Bream, Harrisburg, at a communion breakfast held by the Holy Name society of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church here.

"As Catholics," Attorney Bream said, "it doesn't matter to us whether the United States appoints an ambassador to the Vatican or not. The church has stood for more than 2,000 years and will continue just as it has before whether there is an ambassador to the Vatican from the United States or not."

"But as Americans many of us do think that the United States should have the benefit of having an ambassador to the Vatican state. The Vatican state is a center of information, particularly of information concerning what is going on in many regions of the world from which the United States is practically excluded, that cannot be obtained anywhere else. America should have access to that information and if the person sent to represent us there should have the title of ambassador, that, as far as I can see, is a matter for the State department, a technicality rather than anything else."

Cites England As Example

"The suggested appointment of General Clark as ambassador to the Vatican has set off a great debate in our country, a debate on the question of separation of state and church. Personally, both as a Catholic and an American, I can't see that the question of separation of the church and state has anything to do with it. As far as the Catholic church is concerned, it is certainly recognized as a church in the United States — there are 30,000,000 of us. As for the placing of an ambassador at the Vatican constituting an official recognition of the church, or something of that nature — I just don't understand what is meant."

"England has a state religion, the king is head of that religion, yet it has its diplomatic officials at the Vatican. So do many other countries with state religions. Apparently they feel, as I think we should feel, that for strictly diplomatic reasons they should be represented at the Vatican."

2 GREEK ARMY OFFICERS VISIT HERE SATURDAY

Two officers of the Greek army, Lieut. Col. George Tsoukas, of Pieria, Greece, and Major Costas Colomvas, of Athens, were visitors in Gettysburg Saturday afternoon and were guests of N. A. Meligakes.

Visitors in the United States for the past month, they came here Saturday from Harrisburg, accompanied by Nick Touloumes, proprietor of the St. Moritz cafe, Harrisburg, and Rev. Fr. George Economidis, pastor of Holy Trinity church, Harrisburg.

With a guide they visited the battlefield and later were dinner guests of Mr. Meligakes at the Plaza restaurant.

Fought Guerrillas

Col. Tsoukas and Major Colomvas said they were much impressed with the strategy and conduct of the battle of Gettysburg and would like to have had more time here. Greek army officers study the battle of Gettysburg as a part of their military training, but "there is a big difference between the study of it and the reality of being here," they said.

Both are graduates of the Military Cadet school at Athens, which is similar to the American West Point. They fought in World War II and later against the guerrillas. Both were wounded. The guerrillas have now been driven out of Greece, they said.

"We have been very much impressed with the friendliness of the American people," Col. Tsoukas said, "particularly the Greeks in America and those of Greek descent. We are also very grateful for the aid sent by the United States to Greece."

Red Stooges Continue To Stall Peace Negotiations In Korea; Allied Troops Seize Two Hills

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Nov. 12 (AP)—Allied troops today seized two hill positions southwest of Kumsong in an attack which pushed the Reds back three-quarters of a mile.

The Eighth Army said the attack began at dawn, and both hills were secured by 1 p.m. The Allied infantrymen ran into light to moderate fire from a Communist platoon on each peak.

Kumsong is an old Red supply base, 30 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Patrols clashed sharply southwest and southeast of Kumsong Sunday. An Allied feeler thrust northeast of the shell-torn central front town was driven back by heavy mortar and artillery fire.

Repulse Red Assaults

Low overcast hampered aerial strikes.

The Reds staged a series of sharp assaults on the eastern front Sunday. In the rugged region northwest of the punchbowl the Communists attacked six times, twice in more than company strength.

The Eighth Army reported all the assaults were repulsed, the last one after nightfall.

Allied warplanes struck at Communist troops and supply arteries in nearly 1,000 missions Sunday. The air force reported Communist rail lines were cut in 145 places.

P-86 Sabre jets patrolling northwest Korea sighted red-nosed MIG-15 jets at a distance but the Communist pilots avoided combat.

The U. S. cruiser Toledo and Communist shore batteries had a three-hour gun duel off Hungnam, on the northeast coast. There was no damage to the warship or casualties among its personnel.

A ten-day notice will be sent by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder to the driver of the Greyhound bus, Richard V. Crosby, Gettysburg R. 1, for running through a red blinker light at Buford avenue and Chambersburg street at 2:10 o'clock Sunday morning. The charge was filed by borough police.

Ten-day notices will be sent by Squire Snyder to two other motorists, Mrs. Paul R. Settle, Gettysburg R. 3, and Malcolm Elmer Shaw, Warfordsburg, Pa. Mrs. Settle is charged with passing the same blinker light at 1 a.m. today and Shaw, driver of a tractor-trailer outfit, at 2:15 o'clock this morning.

Wayne M. Arentz, 224 York street, was charged today by borough police with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. His automobile, according to police struck three parked cars on South Washington at 2:20 a.m. October 7 and failed to stop.

Furniture Show Opens; Hold Public Showing Friday Night

"Open house" for local residents will be held Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Gettysburg furniture company's semi-annual furniture show, which opened last Friday and will continue all of this week.

A large number of buyers have already visited the showrooms on York street and inspected the numerous new styles and types of bedroom and dining room furniture and novelty items.

The show is one of the best of many furniture shows held here. The furniture, particularly the ensemble displays, has been arranged as it might appear in actual use. Attractive bedspreads and table and bed linens have been used effectively in the arrangements of bedroom furniture and similar "home" touches have been given other displays.

Modern designs predominate and two new finishes are being shown this year, chinchilla gray and a cherry-tone mahogany.

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 12 (AP)—Allied truce negotiators in strong words today accused the Communists of insisting on a phony cease-fire line merely to stall the armistice talks.

After the subcommittees had wrangled for four hours and 15 minutes, an Allied spokesman said they were no closer to an agreement on the thorny buffer zone issue. They will meet again in Panmunjom at 11 a.m. Tuesday (9 p.m. EST Monday)—their 20th session.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chairman of the two-member U.N. command subcommittee, minced no words in telling the Communist negotiators:

Reds Get Scolding

"You intend to establish a presumptive demarcation line and demilitarized zone, which will release you of any necessity to settle the remaining items of the (armistice) agenda with speed and equity."

"You want to establish a spurious line and zone which will provide you with the leisure and freedom to continue delaying the conference."

The Reds want to fix a cease-fire line before taking up any other item on the agenda. The U.N. command insists that the line follow the war front at the time all other armistice terms are agreed upon.

Want Troops Withdrawn

Brig. Gen. William Nuckolls, the official U.N. command spokesman, said the Communists hinted "pretty broadly" that after a cease-fire line was fixed, the next step would be withdrawal of all troops from the buffer zone.

Both sides have agreed the cease-fire line should follow the battle front with a buffer zone 2 1/2 miles wide. They also have agreed that a special committee should determine the exact location of the buffer zone, based on the line of battle contact and that the full five-man truce delegations should move on to the next agenda item in the meantime.

The only point unsettled is the matter of timing—should the cease-fire line be set first, as the Communists propose, or established after an armistice is reached?

HOLD RECLUSE WITH A-BOMB, DEFENSE DATA

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 12 (AP)—A recluse with a strange interest in the atom bomb, national defense and kindred subjects was held for the FBI today—just to be sure he was as harmless as he sounds.

For the past two years Otto F. Maynard has been living in a rude shack under an Oakland approach to the San Francisco Bay bridge; amid the damdest collection of photographic and written matter police had ever seen.

There were photos of industrial plants and bridges, reams of notes on the atom bomb and hundreds of carefully written papers dealing with defense matters.

And, in the shack, roughly built of cardboard and bits of lumber, police found: one expensive Graphic camera, one long range lens, 33 other pieces of photographic equipment including filters, and a magnifying glass.

Watchman Was Suspicious "What's all the fuss about?" the 42-year-old Maynard inquired when police booked him for vagrancy. A watchman in the area had reported he was suspicious of Maynard.

Police said he was "silly" when they questioned him, but, later, in talking with newsmen, he patiently explained it all.

In the first place, he lived in the shack because "rents are too high." Secondly, he is a camera fan and naturally spends all the money he gets for photographic equipment. Police checked and found he worked off and on as an odd jobs gardener and in restaurants.

Maynard said he had photos in his "home" because he liked to take pictures. And things like the huge Standard Oil refinery at Richmond and the bay bridges made good pictures.

Feared Atom Bomb As for the atom bomb, he said he had a deadly fear of the thing, and with the international situation the way it is, why...

He also pointed out that his notes on the atom bomb all dealt with its effects; not with its construction. He said they had been taken from civilian defense pamphlets available to anyone.

"I just wanted to be ready when the thing drops," he said. The FBI office in Oakland received a report on Maynard last night and an agent said he planned to question the recluse today.

Oakland police weren't sure just what to make of Maynard and his shack's equipment. They said they would let the FBI figure it out.

GHS IS AMONG SELECT GROUP OF CHAMPIONS

By BEN FRENCH

Harrisburg, Nov. 12 (AP) — Only eight major teams could boast all-winning seasons today as most of Pennsylvania's high schools started packing their football togs in moth-balls.

The eleven turning in unbeaten and untied records were Bellwood-Antis, Conemaugh Township, Erie Cathedral Prep, Johnstown Catholic, Lewistown, Pittsburgh Westinghouse, Muncie and Uniontown.

Gettysburg high school clinched its first South Penn title in 12 years by defeating Mechanicsburg 13-0 while Carlisle was eliminating Chambersburg 27-12. The victory also gave the Warriors of Gettysburg their first unbeaten season in history although they had a 28-28 tie with Chambersburg on their record.

DuBois could join selected company today by turning back its traditional rivals from Punxsutawney for the Beavers' ninth straight win. Kulpmont, Ridley township, Swoyersville and West Beranton still have at least one more game before posting perfect seasons.

Schoolboy football is over for western Pennsylvania except for a few scattered playoffs in the WPAL classes. Central and eastern teams still have one or two games remaining before the traditional Thanksgiving Day closing.

Cop 17th In Row

Erie Cathedral Prep's Ramblers smothered Buffalo (N. Y.) Bishop Timon, 51-0, yesterday to run their victory string to 17. The Ramblers finished the season with 300 points to their opponents' 40 in nine games to give the lake city its first unbeaten scholastic team in 11 years.

Week-end triumphs were the 10th of the season for Bellwood-Antis, Conemaugh Township, Kulpmont and Uniontown. Bellwood ran its unbeaten streak to 27 games by downing Claysburg, 17-0, although the Blair county team was tied a year ago.

Conemaugh Township's 27-0 win over Somerset gave the Indians the Western Conference Class A title over defending champion Bellwood-Antis which lost out on points.

Uniontown's 46-0 reversal of Latrobe, however, was not expected to gain it enough points to qualify for the WPAL Class AA playoff next Saturday against Muncie. Farrell, beaten only by Warren, Ohio, probably clinched the berth by handing neighboring Sharon a 27-12 defeat. Muncie ended an all-winning regular season last week with nine victories.

Also holding nine victories for the year are Lewistown and Westinghouse, which won the Pittsburgh city title by a 20-7 decision over Carrick Lewistown, already winner of the Susquehanna league, clinched top honors in the Central Counties league by downing Huntingdon, 13-0.

Kulpmont Faces Test

Kulpmont, which blasted defending champion Coal Township, 20-0, for its ninth win in the Eastern Conference, still has a rough game ahead Friday against once-beaten Tamaqua. A win here could push Kulpmont ahead of leading Pottsville in the Southern division.

Swoyersville, winner of all eight of its games, still has a game remaining with rugged Larksville on Saturday. The Sailors spanked non-league St. Michael's, 45-0.

Ridley township, sole remaining all-winning major eleven in the southeast, downed Media, 34-6, for its 14th victory in a row and ninth of the season. The suburban Philadelphiaans still have games to play with Ridley Park and Eddystone.

West Scranton, winner of all its seven games, smeared Archbald 60-0, but still has a Thanksgiving clash with arch-rival Dunmore.

Bloomsburg Wins Teachers' Title

Harrisburg, Nov. 12 (AP)—Bloomsburg's unbeaten Huskies have clinched the first football title of the new 14-team Pennsylvania State Teachers College conference, according to the official ratings.

With still one game remaining with Indiana, no one can catch the big Huskies. They wrapped up the title chase Saturday by defeating West Chester at Berwick, 16-7, although they had to dust off the old Statue of Liberty play to do it.

In other week-end games, Mansfield won its first by downing winless Lock Haven, 27-14; Shippensburg upset Indiana, 9-0; Kutztown overwhelmed Millersville, 33-13, while Clarion brushed past Slippery Rock, 19-14.

Other games this Saturday sent Mansfield to Millersville and Cheyney to Kutztown. A Mansfield-Edinboro postponed game on November 24 brings the season to a close.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Last week's statement by Clyde Smith that he would quit as Indiana U. football coach at the end of the season, marked the official opening of the season for sniping at football coaches and for guessing about their successors. . . . Principal participants are alumni and sports writers who need something to fill up space. . . . The victims aren't supposed to mind because they made themselves targets when they took up football coaching. . . . The guessers already have come up with the idea that Red Blaik, having taken his punishment as a man after the cribbing scandal at West Point, will step out and possibly take the Indiana job. Don Veller, who has been doing well at Florida State U., is another prospect. . . . Then there's the story that Tulane already has been dickered with another big-time coach to replace Henry Frka, who isn't worried as long as he owns a piece of a productive oil well. . . . And the rumors have it that Len Raffensperger (Iowa) and Don Faurot (Missouri) are feeling the heat and even Herman Hickman's stories aren't keeping all the old Yale Blues happy. . . . And, of course, Tom Hamilton still is looking for his successor as Pitt coach.

THE NEXT STEP

If Blaik steps out at Army, chances are that Vin Lombardi and Murray Warmath will be ready to join the other Blaik alumni who have become head coaches. . . . And Michigan State, another good source of talent, has Red Dawson and Earle Edwards who could move up. . . . And if a school is looking for proven talent, how about such guys as Virginia's Art Guepe, Bill Leckonby of Lehigh, George Barclay of Washington and Lee and Harry Lawrence of Bucknell. . . . They could handle bigger jobs. . . . More names later; you don't expect to bag your limit on the first day of shooting.

DOTS ALL, BROTHERS

When Dayton U. played John Carroll in 19-degree temperature, the players used a hot salve, designed to relieve chafes, horse, etc., to keep their toes and pinkies warm. They say it worked. . . . Before the basketball season even started, Harvard Coach Norman Sheppard used up his quota of hard luck when three varsity prospects were sidelined because of football and soccer injuries. . . . Jim Doran, Detroit Lion end, pronounces his last name the same way Dorne Dibble pronounces his first. Obviously a pair of Dorne good ends.

Tommy Bold Is Open Winner At Pinehurst

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 12 (AP)—Tommy Bolt, the Texan who plays golf out of Durham, N. C., has a $1,000 check in his pocket today to go along with the walking-on-air feeling after coming in with a three-under-par 69 to win the $7,500 North and South Open by three strokes yesterday.

Bolt's 283 on rounds of 71-72-71-69 was five under par for 72 holes around the 7,007-yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country club.

John Barnum, the giant Grand Rapids pro who holds the Michigan Open title, was as much a surprise as Bolt in charging up to take second place and $1,000 with his 71-73-72-70 for 286.

BOWL CHOICE ON WEST COAST NEARS CLIMAX

By ED CORRIGAN

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Coaches and athletic directors of the country—a cautious lot—were walking around their campuses with fingers crossed today, afraid even to think of the games coming up.

Every time they begin to think of the coming bowl games and perhaps start figuring what's going in the cash box, they shudder and think back to what happened to Southern California.

The big, powerful Trojans were the shoe-ins of the Pacific Coast conference, especially after they bounced undefeated California, the pre-season favorite, several weeks ago. The coast title and the gold and glory of the Rose Bowl were virtually theirs.

Stanford Triumphs

But Stanford, completely overlooked before the start of hostilities, crashed the Trojan hopes Saturday with a 27-20 victory.

Now they're saying the Indians can't miss. But can they? They probably can beat Oregon State without much trouble this week, but the following week they go against California, which still is not rated a pushover. Southern Cal. has only one more game—a November 24 date with UCLA.

Same thing in the Big Ten. Illinois—another school overlooked in the pre-season dope—boasts a 4-0 mark after trouncing Iowa, 40-13, Saturday. Michigan, in second place, has a 3-1-1 mark. Then comes Wisconsin (3-1-1) and Purdue (2-1-0). All four have two conference games to play.

Illinois tangles with Ohio State and Northwestern. Michigan meets the same pair while Wisconsin goes against Iowa and Minnesota. If defending champion Michigan wins, the Wolverines won't go to the Rose Bowl, since a Big Ten rule prohibits the same school from playing there two years in a row.

Badges Nip Penn

Illinois needs only one win of its two remaining games for at least a share of the title. Wisconsin is virtually out of it because it tied Ohio State. Purdue has a slim chance but the Bollermakers still have Minnesota and Indiana left to play.

Wisconsin beat Penn, 16 to 7, Saturday, while Michigan lost to Cornell, 20 to 7, in a couple of Big Ten-Ivy league games.

Tennessee probably is the only team that can take things moderately easy—with the exception of Georgia Tech, which already has accepted an invitation to the Orange Bowl in Miami. The Vols, masters of the Southeastern conference, had a 60-14 limbering up exercise at the expense of Washington and Lee and need worry only about Kentucky.

Even if the slow-starting Behe-moths from the Blue Grass should beat Tennessee, Gen. Bob Neyland's outfit would get into some bowl—Sugar, Cotton or Orange. Babe Parilli and his Kentucky outfit could do it, too. They trounced Tulane, 37-0, Saturday.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP) — Gil Turner, 21-year-old product of Philadelphia Diamond Belt competition, runs into a master boxer tonight in a scheduled 10 round go against Bernard Docusen of New Orleans at Convention Hall.

Turner, with 21 knockouts in his 24 victorious pro battles, is the logical favorite but the 24-year-old southerner has a string of his own going and this might be the bout which decides Turner's chances for a crack at the welterweight crown now held by Kid Gavilan.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12 (AP) — Jim Thorpe, operated on for removal of a cancerous growth on his lower lip, is getting along as well as can be expected, a spokesman said today at Lankenau hospital.

Thorpe, selected by sportswriters in an Associated Press poll as the greatest athlete of the past half century, is in satisfactory condition but no date can be given yet for his discharge from the hospital.

Yost, Pratt Spark Bullets To 21-20 Win Over Albright

Freshman Earl Yost and Sophomore Bill Pratt played the hero roles in Gettysburg's thrill-packed 21-20 victory over Albright at Reading Saturday before 2,000.

Yost, who has suddenly come of age as Bullet safety man, intercepted a Cocchiarella aerial in the fourth period on his own 7 and sprinted 93 yards for a touchdown. Pratt place kicked his third consecutive point to give Gettysburg a 21-14 lead. A few minutes later Albright tallied again on a pass from Savage to Potts, and when Ray Reider partially deflected Tony D'Apollito's placement attempt to send it wide of the uprights, Albright was finished for the afternoon.

Yost's interception of his touchdown run was but one of four thieveries for the Williamsport neophyte. Twice in the second half, he helped to stem Albright rallies by crucial interceptions.

Coder Races 73 Yards

The Bullets opened the scoring in the initial quarter on a pass from Berkly Ward to Gene Coder with the play covering 84 yards. Coder, who took the ball on the Albright 27, faked a lateral to end Walt Hemberger and fooled the entire Lion secondary by keeping the ball and dashing the 73 yards for the score. Pratt added the extra point.

After going to the Albright 13 and the 7 on a pair of drives that petered out, Gettysburg hit pay dirt again in 10:55 of the second quarter when Joe Ujohal, who played another fine game crashed over from the 1. Passes from Ward to Day, and Ward to Ujohal had given the Bullets a first down on the home team's three. Pratt's placement was perfect.

The men of Eddie Gullian struck back suddenly in 12:25 of the second period on a pass from Gerry Krout to Potts who took the ball on the Albright 45 and dashed 85 yards to score. The entire play covered 76 yards. D'Apollito's point after touchdown placement was good.

After Gettysburg kicked off to the Lions to start the third quarter, Bill Smith returned to the Albright 41. Seven plays later Cocchiarella hit Potts again for a touchdown on a 45 yard scoring play. Again D'Apollito converted.

Albright was on Gettysburg's 12, third down and 11 to go for a first down after 5:20 minutes of the last period when Cocchiarella attempted to find Potts in the flat, but Yost, playing his greatest game, intercepted and dashed 93 yards for the score. Only the Lion safety man could have stopped Yost, but when the Bullet speedster hesitated to let blocker Bill Ewing and an unidentified teammate in front of him, the fate of the safety man was sealed. Pratt's placement was perfect again.

Albright came back again and on a lateral from Krout to Savage, followed by a pass to Potts, accounted for the score. D'Apollito's placement was deflected by Reider and went to the right of the goalposts.

Bill Ewing, junior guard from Ocean City, N. J., played another one of his brilliant games. Ray Reider, Al Saner, Jim Rooney, Bud Pettit were but a few of the stars of the Bullets.

The victory marked the first time that Gettysburg had defeated Albright in the three years Eddie Gullian has been at the helm of the Lions. The first encounter ended in a 13-13 tie. A year ago the Bullets scored 12 points in the first half, but Albright tallied 14 in the second to win.

Fourth Straight Triumph

Saturday's triumph was the fourth in a row for the fast-moving Bullets and gives them an enviable 5-3 record for the campaign.

BROWNS, GIANTS CLASH SUNDAY FOR LOOP LEAD

By JOE FALLS

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—The American conference lead, if not the championship itself, will be at stake Sunday when the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants tangle here in a National Football league headliner pitting two veteran powers.

Cleveland (6-1-0) held tight to its slim lead yesterday by nipping the Philadelphia Eagles, 20 to 17, with a second-half rally, while the Giants (5-1-1) were thumping Sammy Baugh and the Washington Redskins, 28 to 14.

Meantime, the Los Angeles Rams pulled into a tie first place in the National conference by smashing the hapless Chicago Cardinals, 45 to 21. The Rams (5-2-0) now are all even with the Chicago Bears (5-2-0), who lost their first game in six years to the Detroit Lions, 41 to 28.

In other games, San Francisco scored in the last minute to turn back the winless New York Yanks, 19 to 14, and Pittsburgh played heads-up ball to defeat Green Bay, 28 to 7, in a battle of also-rams.

Eagles Blow Lead

At Cleveland, the Eagles, realizing a defeat would all but end their pennant hopes, took a 10-0 lead at halftime, completely outplaying the Browns. This made most of the 36,571 fans uneasy, as the scoreboard showed the Giants were trimming the Skins.

After the intermission, however, the Browns—who had a net of nine yards lost rushing in the first half—dominated play. With Otto Graham tossing two touchdown passes and Lou Groza kicking two field goals, the Browns scored 10 points each in the third and fourth periods for their sixth straight win.

Groza's second field goal, a 14-yard effort, snapped a 17-17 deadlock with 9½ minutes left to go. Philadelphia now has four losses, and only a complete collapse by the Giants and Browns can save the once-proud Eagles.

Joe Geri was the star in Pittsburgh's one-sided win over Green Bay. He scored one touchdown, kicked four extra points.

GOP SPLIT IN SOME STATES IS REPORTED

Washington, Nov. 12 (AP) — The prospect of a battle between Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the GOP presidential nomination appeared today to have split several state Republican organizations wide open.

Although Eisenhower has made no public announcement that he is available, he already has developed strong support among Republican national committee members, state chairmen and governors in every section of the country.

Taft, an announced candidate, led the general 42 to 25 among party officials willing to express their preference for a nominee in a weekend Associated Press poll. Significantly, perhaps, 80 officials said they either hadn't made up their minds or wouldn't disclose their decision.

In the same group of GOP workers, totaling 147, 54 believe Eisenhower will become a candidate and 24 do not. Sixty-nine didn't want to guess one way or the other.

general becomes an avowed candidate.

Texas, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Maine, Delaware, Florida and Wisconsin represent possible battlegrounds. Republican officials in those states who usually have something to say about the makeup of convention delegations appeared divided in their sentiments.

Taft goes into Pennsylvania for a speech at Harrisburg tomorrow. Senator Duff (R-Pa.), most active advocate of the proposed Eisenhower candidacy, will invade Louisiana as one of his strongholds in the nomination race.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. John S. Fine and State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor disagree with Duff in the latter's contention that Eisenhower is available. Neither of the state officials has endorsed any candidate yet.

Owlett Can't Tell

G. Mason Owlett, Pennsylvania national committeeman, said he couldn't tell from what the general said whether he would be a candidate. Owlett, not committed to anyone publicly, said there is some sentiment developing in the state for Taft and Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor who now is president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Duff had his troubles trying to organize the Eisenhower campaign in Texas last week and was accused by Henry Zweifel, the GOP national committeeman, with attempting to undercut him in his job.

Zweifel already has said that "Senator Robert Taft and Gen. Douglas MacArthur are the team that can best do the job for the Republican party and the nation as a whole."

The Election, A Close Contest!
Hayes Probably Elected: The past week has been an exciting one in political circles. The Democrats, assured of the power of the "shot-gun" policy, to give them the local electoral vote of the South, as soon as they found that New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and Indiana had voted for Tilden, went off into most extravagant jublations over assumed victory Thursday afternoon (November 9) wrought a marked change, telegrams from the South announcing that Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana had gone Republican and elected Hayes and Wheeler. The Democracy were dumfounded by this unexpected miscarriage of their program. Charges of fraud and threats of revolution were heard on all sides, while underneath these pretentious clamors there soon developed a desperate purpose to prevent the counting of the electoral vote of these three states, unless they counted for Tilden.

At the request of President Grant the national committees of both parties at once arranged to send representative men to the South to supervise the counting of ballots. During the entire week there has been much uncertainty, based on contradictory despatches from all three states.

(Nov. 23 item): Both sides are preparing to come down gracefully and submit to the decision as soon as it is known.

(Nov. 29 item): The Democrats are going about with lanterns in every state from Maine to Texas looking for that missing electoral vote.

Today's Talk

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE LAST LEAVES

My very mind is enveloped by a peaceful mist of beauty as I look out upon the tapestry of gold, bronze and emerald shades that Autumn's last farewell spreads before my eyes. A waft of wind—and thousands of colorful leaves fall gently to the earth and spread about it a coat more exquisite than any woven fabric.

The significance is that nothing is lost in this remarkable transition of nature's forces of change. The leaves fall and they are the last of the season, but they intermingling with the last of other years, are indeed the product of them, and they themselves join the ever changing, though never changing, process of continual life. Walk through the forest and you tread upon history!

As we look out upon the glory of the autumn, in its colorful array, we are reminded of the springtime when tiny buds began to open their eyes to the light and to the warm sunshine. Each day those eyes opened wider until the whole landscape of trees was unbraided in its new green gowns.

The story of immortality is presented to us in vivid form as we look out upon these last leaves of the ending year. The Creator had a purpose behind every created thing, whether beast, bird, insect, flower or tree. In the midst of all He placed man as His greatest creation. And so we look out upon all that is of this earth. These last leaves are but one example of the universal plan.

In the foreword to his re-published book "The Outermost House," Henry Beston said this: "When the Pleiades and the wind in the grass are no longer a part of the human spirit, a part of the very flesh and bone, man becomes, as it were, a kind of cosmic outlaw, having neither the completeness and integrity of the animal nor the birthright of true humanity."

Edwin Way Teale remarked in his recent book that "Seasons begin in the sky." Perhaps that is true, but the last leaves find their nesting place upon the breast of our good earth, and there lie until the awakening!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Fear Thought."

Just Folks

THE HEAVY YOKE
God gives to none a guarantee
That life on earth shall easy be.
He even sent His own Son down,
Through suffering, to earn His crown.

Had earth been made a perfect place
Whereon man had no tasks to face,
No hardships and no griefs to bear,
There would have been no need for prayer.

For this to earth we all were sent:
The pride of high accomplishment;
By faith and courage to attain
True greatness ease could never gain.

GIVE RUSSIA SHARP DEFEAT ON RED CHINA

Paris, Nov. 12 (AP)—Russia suffered a sharp defeat Saturday in its campaign to seat Red China in the United Nations. The 14-nation steering committee refused, 11 to 2, to put the question on the agenda of the General Assembly. One nation abstained.

Russia and Poland cast the negative votes, with Yugoslavia abstaining. Britain joined the United States, Canada and Dominican Republic, Norway, France, Iraq, China, Thailand, Mexico and Chile in the yes vote. Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain said his country felt "the situation in Korea" made it inadvisable at this time to take up the Chinese question.

Observers do not expect the Soviet Union to give up, however, without a final fight on the floor of the assembly itself to have the question reinstated on the agenda as an amendment to the steering committee's report.

The committee was voting on a resolution, submitted by Prince Wan Waihayakon of Thailand, calling for rejection of Russia's demand that the assembly consider the question of Chinese representation.

U. S. Delegate Warren A. Austin said the Soviet move "is a proposal which has been considered and rejected nearly 90 times."

COMPOSER OF OPERETTAS DIES

New York, Nov. 12 (AP)—Composer Sigmund Romberg, 64, whose operettas and songs are loved by millions, died Friday of a cerebral hemorrhage at his (Ritz Tower) hotel suite here.

Romberg wrote such "all-time" musical play favorites as "The Student Prince," "Desert Song," "Maytime," "Blossomtime" and "New Moon." During the past 40 years he turned out 78 operettas and more than 2,000 songs.

Apparently in good health, Romberg arrived in New York November 3 from his home in Beverly Hills, Calif. He usually spent his winters in the east before embarking on concert tours in the spring.

His body was found on the bathroom floor by his wife, Lillian Harris Romberg, whom he married in 1925. Before he collapsed, she said, her husband had not complained of feeling ill.

Had Mass Appeal
Romberg always called his music "middle brow—music too low-brow for a symphony conductor and too high-brow for a jazz conductor."

His music has a mass appeal, being replete with melodic love songs and romantic themes.

With the coming of talking pictures, Romberg spent a great deal of time in Hollywood. His film scores included "Girl of the Golden West," "Up in Central Park" and adaptations of a number of his Broadway musical hits.

Romberg is survived by his wife and a brother, Hugo, who resides in Los Angeles. The Rombergs had no children.

Says "5 Percenters" Still Do Business

Kansas City, Nov. 12 (AP)—Five percenters and influence peddlers are "still doing business in Washington at the same old stand," Senator Robert Taft (R-Ohio) asserted in a blast at the Truman administration.

"Maragon is in jail but Harry Vaughn still is in the White House with his deep freeze," the only announced candidate for the 1952 Republican nomination told a dinner audience of 1,500 at the Kansas City World War II Memorial building.

(The senator's references were to John Maragon, former Kansas citizen who is serving a jail sentence for perjury, and Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn, personal aide of President Truman. Maragon was once a frequent White House caller.)

"The entire nation has been shocked over and over again by the low state of political morality in this present administration," Taft said. "Its partisans have not even bothered to deny the improper influence frequently revealed in congressional investigations. x x x 'We know of the protection given the Pendergast regime in Kansas City by high officials of the government. x x x The nation represents the extension of Pendergastism to Washington and its domination in the political thinking of those who control the government.'"

START SPRING GARDEN WORK NOW

There are several gardening tasks which, if they are not completed before winter, will not be done at all. Experience proves that crowding spring duties and unfavorable weather often leave many activities unattended in March which should have been taken care of while time and weather offered opportunities in late fall. Among these are:

Raspberries, blackberries and dewberries should be planted as early in March as weather and soil conditions permit. To gain this advantage it is usually necessary to prepare soils before winter. Of course, if the land slopes enough to invite over-winter erosion, preparations should be postponed until spring.

Asparagus should likewise be planted early in March. Plenty of well rotted manure and compost should be turned under deeply in late fall and the soil left rough over winter to permit early working.

Like asparagus, rhubarb roots must be planted early in March before growth gets under way. Here again soils should be made ready before winter by turning under a liberal application of coarse but well decomposed manure and compost.

Blueberries require an acid soil reaction. To plant them in ordinary alkaline garden soils means failure before the start. Therefore, prospective growers of this excellent newcomer among small fruits should prepare planting soils before winter. Blueberry plants should be set out quite early in March.

Every gardener needs liberal supplies of dry loam from late January until May, for use in hotbeds, coldframes, seed flats, window boxes, plant cups and pots, to dry up row soil when it is unusually wet, and in numerous other roles. Progressive gardeners will now store at least several barrels of dry loam indoors to meet these late winter and spring needs.

As the supply of horse manure grows scarcer year after year, gardeners and farmers should save more livestock manures from summer pasture fields and feed lots. One of the best forms of manure, as frequently suggested here, is well weathered cow manure gathered at this time of the year from a pasture. Stored dry in sheds or other buildings, pulverized dry cow manure may be effectively used in scores of spring planting activities. It is almost a "must" for flower growers.

Many growers set out grape vines in late fall, others prefer early March planting. Where alternate freezing and thawing occur over winter March planting is preferred. Here again fall preparation of soil is necessary.

Coldframes will be needed from early February on until summer arrives; manure-heated hotbeds will be in order even in late January. The far-sighted gardener will have these built and ready before winter. Then in late fall he may utilize them for growing an extra bed of leaf lettuce and for storing cabbage, celery, beets and other hardy late crops.

Because dry weather has delayed germination of rye seeded earlier for green manure and winter cover, gardeners may still seed garden areas otherwise left bare. Even if only a meager growth develops before winter it will protect priceless soils from the "bouncing" effects of rain and produce at least some green vegetation to turn under next spring.

Alcohol Is Sure Death For Bugs

Mealy bugs are one of the most destructive pests on house plants, and the woolly, waxy covering that protects their soft bodies is an effective armor against most insecticides. Spraying house plants is a difficult job anyhow unless it is taken care of in a shed or cellar where a spray deposit on the floors, walls or both is not too serious a consequence. Where the work has to be done in the bathroom an old sheet will come in handy to protect walls and floor.

Where just a plant or two suffers from mealy bugs, attention to each individually is not only more effective but less trouble. Take a toothpick, twist a piece of cotton around one end and dip into common rubbing alcohol. Then touch each mealy bug for a second or two sweet potato-like roots. After digging, the stems are cut off to two or three inches above the crown where the roots join the stem.

Expose roots to the air until the stems are fairly well dried. If the stem is thick and hollow—more than an inch through—it may pay to split the stem and clump to obtain better drying.

For storing dahlias in the home, it is well to use crates, baskets and barrels. If waterproof paper is not available, use many layers of newspaper to line the container.

Two materials have proved helpful in bringing roots through the winter. One is peat moss. This should be well shredded and spread out in a shallow layer on the cellar floor to dry. If it is too moist, stems and roots may rot. The other material is fine vermiculite.

Place a layer of either material on the bottom of the receptacle, two or three inches deep. Then place the clumps, allowing room on the side for an inch or two of the storage material.

Before placing the clumps, dust the cut surfaces of the stem and any broken or cut ends of roots with a mixture of dusting sulphur and lime, sulphur and talc, or an organic fungicide, to prevent decay. When receptacles are nearly full, add a layer of packing material, cover with papers and place in the coolest part of the cellar.

DAHLIA ROOTS REQUIRE CARE

Dahlia root storage is not easy in modern homes, because it is difficult to find a place cool enough and moist enough in the cellar to hold the roots in good condition. Digging should be done a few days to a week after the tops have been killed by frost. Be careful not to injure the "neck" of the large, so that the alcohol may penetrate the waxy froth. That is sure death to them and does no harm to the plant.

Repeat the treatment whenever more bugs appear, though it seldom takes more than three thorough treatments to eliminate an entire brood.
